

Improve the quality of your workshops using the LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY® method

Work on your workshop-design skills with Master Trainer Per Kristiansen. You will have the chance to evaluate one of your previous or upcoming workshops and benefit from other participants' experiences.

This workshop is hosted by The Creative Change Lab and Trivium. It is not licensed by the Association of Master Trainers.

Per Kristiansen – Trivium

Matthias Renner, Therese Kless – The Creative Change Lab

Why should you participate?

- Learn from one of the pioneers of the LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY® method.
- Use the knowledge in the room.
- Benefit from lessons learned in past or emerging workshops.
- Experience best practices in the workshop design.
- Grow your facilitator landscape.

How will you benefit?

- Per Kristiansen will lead you through the contributed workshop designs, detecting weak points, pitfalls and blind spots. Together we will highlight best practices and iron your workshop design.

What are the requirements?

- You are a facilitator, certified by the Association of Master Trainers in the usage of the LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY® method.
- You contribute one of your workshop designs which shows the motive, the objective of the workshop and the implemented steps.
- We recommend that you have designed and delivered some workshops based on the LEGO® SERIOUS PLAY® method.

Additional information:

Date: Monday, September 17th 2018

Time: 0830 - 1700

Place: Rheinallee 79 - 81, 55116 Mainz (Germany)

Investment: 650,- € excluding VAT
(for German participants)

The training includes food and beverages.

Any more questions and where to register:

Web: www.the-creative-change-lab.com

Email: contact@the-creative-change-lab.com

Email: per.kristiansen@trivium.dk

Tel: +49 151 598 99 818